

Dr. Paul Casciano, Kathleen Pantaleo, Ed Schneyer, Tricia Interrante, Karen Werner

Ed Schneyer , 5th grade teacher at Hobart Elementary was honored as an outstanding teacher that integrates technology into the classroom. ASSET stands for the Association of Suffolk County Supervisors of Educational Technologies and each year teachers across Suffolk county are nominated for this honor. Tricia Interrante, Coordinator of Technology at William Floyd School District and Past President and Conference Chair of ASSET says “Ed has done an amazing job integrating technology into his curriculum in a seamless and effective way. His work with the interactive white board, document camera and most recently creating instructional videos has exceeded expectations and had made him an example of a leader in the technology integration field.” Most recently Ed worked with his 5th graders on a video that embraced the math curriculum and allowed students to remember the math concepts of angles in a fun and engaging way. You can see the video by clicking here. Congratulations to Ed on his hard work!