A regulation on reporting appointed and elected officials' service time to the retirement system for purposes of pension credit, which more clearly defines the reporting process, became effective August 12, 2009. The regulation adds additional requirements for both employers and elected and appointed officials in order for the employee to receive pension service credit for which they may be eligible. Among the changes are an expanded record of work activities, a more detailed resolution and specific time frames within which requirements must be completed. Dr. Shah, School Physician. Dr. Shah is the only employee which the District has to report in the category of appointed official. There are no elected officials to report.
